Watt's New

Solar updates, industry news, and more

Welcome back to Watt's New!

October is bringing new opportunities to explore solar. This month, we're sharing financing options for homeowners, a look at BC Hydro's latest changes, and updates from around the Solos community.

Thinking About Solar? Let's Talk Financing.

Exploring solar doesn't have to mean paying for your entire system upfront. Through FinanceIt, eligible customers can explore promotional financing options for their solar project.

Why solar?

After considering solar for a few years, especially after purchasing an electric vehicle, Leslie and Brian decided to make the switch when it was time to replace their roof. Their goals were to reduce their electricity bills and make a more environmentally conscious choice.

Why did you choose Solos Energy?

"We received quotes from three solar companies and in the end we went with Solos. We were impressed with their professionalism, excellent communication, and reasonable pricing."

How was your experience with Solos?

"Our experience working with the team was fantastic from start to finish. Whether it was virtually or in person, everyone with Solos was courteous, professional, and efficient."

What is your advice to other homeowners?

"I would suggest they reach out to Solos for more information to see if solar is a good fit for them, as the money they save could pay for the cost of solar sooner than they think!"
